Fifty Dollars R ward.

Hill and Dale, Fred County, Virginia, Decemb r 30.

Absconded from this p ntation on the night of the 24th instan without the smallest provocation or known cause, a very black young man, supposed to be 22 or 23 years of age and about 5 fe 7 or 8 inches high, strong and robust and broad over the shoulders. He had new cloaths of home made cloth fulled, of a drab color, but I have some reason to think he sold them and may appear in what is called his sunday cloaths, the coat of which is brown cloth pretty much worn, but he has other cloaths and may change them. I will give Fifty Dollars if apprehended out of the state of Virginia, and Twenty five if taken in the state or district of Columbia and brought home to me or lodged in a jail so that I get him again. Masters of vessels are admonished, at their peril, from taking him on board and conveying him away.

Mutual Assurance Society.

At a meeting of the Standing Committee of the Mutual Assurance Society against fire on buildings of the State of Virginia, held on Monday the 11th day of November, 1816—

This being the day fixed by the constitution of the Mutual Assurance Society against fire on buildings of the State of Virginia, for a general meeting of the said society to be formed, and a sufficient number of members in person or by proxy, not attending to form such meeting, it was

Resolved by the Standing Committee aforesaid, in conformity with the first section of the first article of the said constitution, that the said general meeting be adjourned to the first Monday in January next.

Public Notice therefore is hereby given, that the said general meeting be adjourned, and stands adjourned to the first Monday in January next, 1817, when it is particularly desired that there shall be a full meeting of the Members of the Society, as matters of the utmost importance will be laid before them touching the interest and prosperity of the institution.

By order of the Standing Committee.

JAMES RAWLINGS, P. Agent of the M. A. Society.

Form of the writing to constitute a proxy for the above meeting:

—— Member of the Mutual Assurance Society against fire on buildings of the State of Virginia, do hereby constitute and appoint —— —— to attend the General Meeting of the said Society to be held in Richmond on the first Monday in January next, 1817, as proxy, to vote and act on —— behalf on any business which may come before the said meeting as fully as if —— —— personally present.

In testimony whereof —— hereunto set —— hand & seal — the day of —— 181 .

Fauquier Lands.

THE subscriber offers for sale the Estate whereon he resides in the county of Frquier, about 8 miles below the court-house, on Cedar-Run, between the roads leading to Fredericksburgh and Occoquan, 30 miles distant from either place, and 40 to Alexandria by the turnpike, from Buckland. The tract is computed at

Three thousand three hundred and seventy Acres, and is divided into three farms, with Woodland and Meadows, conveniently distributed for each. There is a Valuable Mill Seat,

with stone on the spot for building.—The stream is abundant, and waters the whole tract, presenting an extent of

Four or five hundred Acres of Low Grounds of first quality.—The high land is well divided into regular fields, some of them very productive, and is adapted to the use of Plaister. Few tracts can possess greater advantages either for extensive grazing or grain culture.

The purchaser or purchasers of the land, can be accommodated with the farming utensils, the crops of Corn and the sown Wheat—the stock of Cattle, Horses, Sheep and Hogs; and with the Negroes on the estate in families, making about 150, of a very valuable description, with some tradesmen.

The improvements are a comfortable Dwelling House, with good out Houses, Ice House, Stables, &c. The situation is healthy and the water uncommonly good. Two thirds of the whole purchase money will be required at the delivery of the property, the balance in short payments with interest and secured by deed of trust.

MONDAY, JANUARY 6

Public Sale.

WILL be sold, at public auction, on Tuesday the 7th day of January next, being the second day of Prince William Court; at the late residence of Alexander Henderson, of Dumfries; all the personal property at the mansion house: It is useless to enumerate it particularly, but amongst many other articles are such as follow:

A large quantity of bedding of superior quality: a piano: an elegant violin: a new fashionable carriage with plated harness and a pair of horses: 8 milch cows: 40 or 50 hams of prime old bacon valuable carpeting: tea ware and glass-ware, etc. etc.

On this property a credit of 9 months will be given, the purchaser giving bond and security, bearing interest from the date if not paid punctually.

Five slaves are for sale viz. a first rate female cook, a likely well tutored girl of 14, a young man of good character a rough blacksmith, and two valuable farming negro men, one about 25 the other about 35 years old. The one about 25, to be sold as near Fauquier court-house as may be, to be near his wife, and the other for a like reason near Leesburg. Inman Horner, Esq. will sell the youngest. These people may be seen at Dumfries till the day of sale, and on that day, but will not be publicly exposed—the executor does not deal with foreign purchasers or their agents—they need not call, and are asked not to do so. Cash will be asked for the servants.

The dwelling house itself with its appurtenances will be sold on very moderate and accommodating terms. The house is spacious and convenient; the out houses are good, and the garden prepared with great labor and taste, so as to be at once remarkably productive and handsome. The society of the village is very agreeable and a bargain may be had in this property.

Absconded from this plantation on the night of the 24th instant, without the smallest provocation or known cause, a very black young man, named supposed to be about twenty two or twenty three years of age & about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, strong and robust and broad over the shoulders. He had new cloaths of home made cloth fulled, of a drab color, but I have some reason to think he sold them and may appear in what is called his Sunday cloaths, the coat of which is brown cloth pretty much worn, but he has other cloaths and may change them. I will give Fifty Dollars if apprehended out of the state of Virginia, and Twenty five if taken in the state or district of Columbia and brought home to me or lodged in a jail so that I get him again. Masters of vessels are admonished, at their peril, from taking him on board and conveying him away.

PETER,

Alexandria, Nov. 29.

Was committed to the jail of this county as a runaway, a mulatto man who says his name is David Jones, and says that he came from Harford county in the state of South Carolina—he is about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high & about 22 years of age—his face is rough with pimples—he had on a blue cloth coat and home made pantaloons. The owner is requested to come and prove his property, pay charges and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

THE GRAVE OF THE YEAR.

The following Poem under this title we recommend to the special attention of our readers. We have ourselves perused it, with no ordinary satisfaction. Among the many admirable productions, with which we have been favored by the same esteemed author, we consider this as decidedly the best; and he who can read it, unmoved by the solemnity of its topics or the tenderness of its strains, must possess a kind of sensibility and taste which we can neither envy nor applaud.

N. Y. Com. Advertiser.

THE GRAVE OF THE YEAR.

Be compos'd ev'ry toil, and each turbulent motion,
That encircles the heart in life's treacherous snares;
And the hour that invites to the calm of devotion,
Undisturb'd by regrets—unencumber'd with cares.

How cheerless the late blooming face of creation!
Weary Time seems to pause in his rapid career,
And fatigued with the work of his own desolation,
Looks behind with a smile—on the grave of the year,

Hark! the wind whistles rudely—the shadows are closing,
That enwrap his broad path in the mantle of night;
While pleasure's gay sons are in quiet reposing,
Unconscious of the wrecks that have number'd his flight.

From yon temple where Fasonih's bright tapers are lighted,
Her votaries in crowds, deck'd with garland appear,
And as yet their warm hopes by no spectres affrighted,
Assemble to dance—round the grave of the year.

O I hate the stale cup which the [illegible] have tasted,
When I think on the ill[illegible] of life's [illegible] fortless day.
How the flow'rs of my childhood the verdure have wasted,
And the friends of my youth have been stolen away!

They think not how fruitless the warmest endeavor,
To recal the kind moments, neglected when near,
When the hours that oblivion has cancel'd forever,
And interr'd by her hand in the grave of the year.

Since the last solemn reign of this day's reflection,
What throngs have relinquish'd life's perishing breath!
How many have shed their last tear of detection,
And clos'd the dim eye in the darkness of death!

How many have sudden their pilgrimage ended,
Beneath the low pall that envelopes their bier,
Or to death's lonesome valley have gently descended,
And made their cold beds without the grave of the year!

Tis the year that so late, its new beauties disclosing,
Rose bright on the happy, the careless, and gay,
Who now on their pillow of dust are reposing,
Where the sod presses damp on their bosoms of clay.

Then talk not of bliss, while her smile is expiring,
Disappointment still drowns it in misery's tear;
Reflect and be wise—for the day is retiring,
And to morrow will dawn—on the grave of a year.

Yet awhile, and no seasons around us will flourish,
But silence for each her dark mansion prepare;
Where beauty no longer her roses shall nourish,
Nor the lily o'erspread the wan cheek of despair.

But the eye shall with lustre, unfading be brighten'd
When it wakes to true bliss in yon orient sphere;
By sun beams of splendor immortal enlighten'd,
Which [illegible] shall go down, on the grave of a year.

Naples and America.—We know the Americans failed so completely in their demands on the court of Naples, that instead of obtaining several millions sterling, as the value of a great number of ships and cargoes seized by Murat, nothing was given up to them but two or three small vessels, which, as being of little or no value, remained unsold. To restore these was no more than what common courtesy, or, one might say, common honesty demanded; since they were known to be the identical property of the Americans, and never had undergone any transfer whatever. The way in which a French journal speaks of this transaction is as follows: "The Americans have obtained of the court of Naples the restitution of the vessels which had been taken from them. They still claim a further indemnity, but their tone is less menacing. The establishment which they desire to have ceded to them in the Mediterranean would be useful to their commerce, and dangerous to no power. We do not yet know whether or no they will obtain it." Now, the journalist knows very well that they have not the slightest chance of obtaining it; he knows that the European powers in general would not permit the introduction of the Americans into the Mediterranean; and he also knows that, instead of obtaining restitution of the vessels that had been taken from them, they will never obtain one farthing for those which Murat sold, and which comprised nineteen twentieths of those which he seized. One consolation the owners of these American vessels may derive from the present French papers: they may learn that the fruit of these robberies has purchased Miss Murat a husband. The young lady, it is said, is about to be married to a Hungarian Nobleman, and her mamma is to give her a fortune of three millions of ducats, part of the proceeds, in all probability, of the very vessels in question. As Mr. Pinckney has failed at Naples, and is now on his way to St. Petersburg, he may call on old Madame Murat in his way, and try the effect of his diplomatic rhetoric on her purse; no doubt there is still a great deal left in it besides Miss's fortune.

Nov. 8—We have received letters from Holland to the 2d inst. It appears that in consequence of different provinces of that Kingdom being much afflicted by the deplorable situation, to which the unfortunate inhabitants of Guilder, and a part of South Holland are reduced, by the incessant rains during the summer; it has been ordered that collections should be made throughout the states in order to succor those who have suffered by the calamity.

Directions have therefore been given, that in every town of these provincial states, committees should be formed to afford relief, and on being so established they have sent addresses to invite the assistance of their fellow citizens. The address of the committee of Amsterdam, is in these terms.

"A dreadful Calamity, of which there is no former example, has injured the fertile territories of Guilder, and the rich province of South Holland. Continual rains, extraordinary rise of the rivers, and the overflow of the waters in the interior which has been the consequence of these, have destroyed the natural herbage, and with the fruit of the earth, Potatoes and every article of indispensible necessity. In addition to these sources of distress, an epidemic disease has prevailed among the cultivators. It is not possible, under such circumstances to indemnify those who have suffered loss, for the injury is incalculable, but it is compitable to assist thousands of our fellow creatures in the cruel situation to which they are reduced by the unfavorable season, and to place them in a condition to preserve the cattle that remain to them, the only resource of the country people, either for the present or the future."

After an energetic exhortation, and an energetic appeal to the sensibility of the public, the address concludes with stating, "that the measures have been honored with the approbation of the burgomaster of the city, subscription books would be sent to every house, that persons who are unwilling to subscribe their names openly, may privately indulge their malignity, and contribute to the relief of the unfortunate."

"In the name of the committee.
Signed J. D MEIJER,
Secretary.

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY, JANUARY 6.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Saturday, January 4.

The most interesting part of the intelligence I have to give you this morning is, that a bill was yesterday twice read in the house of representatives, providing for the erection of a Court-House, Public Offices and Jail, in our town of Alexandria. Give me leave to add my congratulations on the good fortune of your town in obtaining a promise of public edifices so likely to contribute to its ornament and to the convenience of a certain class of its inhabitants and visitors. The progress of civilization in this our new world, has been so rapid & its strides so gigantic since the conclusion of the late war, that it may reasonably be concluded, unless some unexpected obstacle should cross it, buildings of the kind here provided for, will be ere long in great demand in every part of the union. There are periods in the history of all nations at which jails are amongst the most useful of all possible edifices.

A report from the committee on the contested Missouri election was the main subject of yesterday's discussion. By some conception or other whether right or wrong, the committee propounded, in their report, a principle or two, which alarmed our political watchmen, and set them at work with their battles. The amount of it was, that as in elections by ballot secrecy was the very life and soul of the transaction, it was incompetent to Congress by itself in full house, or its committees, to examine evidence as to the qualification of the electors who had voted, or if any had voted who were unqualified to call upon them to disclose which of the candidates they had voted for, a disclosure without which it were vain to enquire into the qualification of an elector with a view to purge the polls. Mr. Webster, Mr. Randolph, Mr. Sheffey, Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Pitkin, Mr. Telfair, and Mr. Thomas, concurred in denouncing this as a blow on the constitutional powers of Congress, to whom, in both houses, belonged the right to regulate and judge of the admissibility of their own members. The report of the committee suggested, and Mr Taylor of New-York who gallantly wielded the cudgels in its support, insisted, that the decision of the judges who presided at the elections, was final; that is to say, in cases of elections by ballot; while Mr. Webster peremptorily maintained, that if it were so, that is to say, if ballot took away the right of the house, no election by ballot could be lawful.

Thus out of so trivial an affair as a contested election for the delegate of the Missouri Territory, has arisen one of the most important questions of policy that could employ the deliberations of our statesmen. It seemed really to astonish many of the best & ablest men in the house how a doctrine so very extraordinary, and they say pernicious, could have entered into the head or escaped from the lips of any legislator.—but, as it is has been stated, their hope is that it will not be lost sight of until completely ran down.—The petitioning candidate Mr. Rufus Easton, in whose favour bye the bye, the committee have reported is to speak to it himself in propria persona this morning.

The view which Lord Castlereagh has given of the present commercial state of the world, in time of peace, will no doubt be read with peculiar interest by the patrons of this Gazette. The account of the dinner at which this gentleman delivered his speech, we copy from the Liverpool Mercury of the 16th Nov.

PUBLIC DINNER
To Lord Castlereagh.

On the 30th ult. Lord Castlereagh was entertained at the Exchange Rooms, in Belfast, by the sovereign, burgesses, and principal inhabitants of Belfast and its vicinity. At the centre table the marquis of Donegall presided, having lord Castlereagh on his right hand, and the marquis of Londonderry on his left. After the removal of the cloth, the noble president drank the usual loyal toasts; after which the health of lord Castlereagh was proposed by lord Donegall, who stated his inability to do justice to the talents and services of the noble guest.—"Lord Viscount Castlereagh, the statesman, who, by the vigor of his measures, and the wisdom of his policy, had so eminently contributed to the termination of a glorious war, and the conclusion of an honorable peace."

Lord Castlereagh in returning thanks for the honor thus conferred on him, observed, that in the latter years of the long and arduous contest with France ministers merely followed the impulse of the public spirit of the nation, and the government and the people, acting with one spirit and one voice, became irresistable. Then adverting to the present distressed state of the country, he said, "I cannot forget, in the midst of this exultation, that great embarrassments and difficulties are hanging over this nation, and that, although the war be closed, the blessings of peace have not returned without alloy. Commerce has been forced into new channels; it has been flowing for 20 years in the track of war; it is the nature of war, and it seems a provision of Providence, that gives a new and unusual activity to certain branches of trade, which grow only and are dependent on warlike operations; and in cases like ours, where the public exertions were great in duration and in magnitude, this kind of warfaring commerce had acquired a proportional influence and having suddenly ceased, and the ancient channels of trade not yet opened a languor and painful interval of torpor has succeeded, we are now suffering under this exhaustion. The habits and minds of men are not yet turned to new other countries prepared for that peaceful commerce upon which permanent prosperity depends, but which every enlightened merchant must expect to return & which we already see dawning upon these countries. But while we are under this temporary depression, we should not consider so much what we are, as what we should have been, had any single disaster befallen us that could have put us in the least degree under the power of the tyrant of the world; for I state it as a fact, that from the small state of Prussia, with less than half our population, was drained the enormous sum of fifty millions during the short period of 4 years while it remained under French domination.

Gentlemen, it is no longer a problem, or a speculation for curious men, what were the designs of the ruler of the French, the enemy of liberty, and I may say the enemy of mankind. I say it is no longer conjecture what his views were with respect to us; he has not thought it worth while to conceal them, but has declared, in his present retreat, that in war or in peace, or rather during the short truces he might permit us to enjoy, that tho' Europe might be at his feet, he considered he had accomplished nothing while Great Britain remained an independent nation. I call upon you, therefore to compare your commercial situation and resources as they are with what they might and most inevitably would have been, had the Prince and his Government stooped to any of the measures but such as have been adopted.

After a variety of other toast, the Marquis of Donegall, gave, 'Lord Liverpool and the Prince Regent's Ministers." In returning thanks, Lord Castlereagh again adverted to the state of the country. He said that it should not be forgotten that the close of the American war when our distresses were equal, if not more severe, our resources were barely sufficient to pay the interest of the national debt: while at present he could take upon him to assert, that we had not only sufficient to discharge the interest, but we had also an overplus, which, if not adequate to the expences of our peace establishment, could still be found to amount to more than the entire of our revenue at the close of the American war. It should also be remembered, he said, that then we had a heavy debt without any positive means to discharge it, while now we have a large sinking fund solely applicable to its liquidation. His Lordship then enlarged on the high estimation in which we now are held by every power in Europe and concluded by expressing his conviction that our embarrassments would prove only of a temporary nature, and that we should soon rise superior to the difficulties which now press upon the country.

Major Eastbrook, of Holden, sowed the last season, on six acres of land, six bushels and one peck of rye, which yielded two hundred and fifty bushels!! We can vouch for the truth of this statement, as we had it from Major Eastbrook himself, who is a gentleman of undoubted veracity.——Wor. Egis.

Virginia Legislature.

Yesterday, the House of delegates passed the Map Bill.

The new Bank Bill progresses—On motion of Mr Mercer of L. a clause is introduced to reserve to the Legislature the right o authorizing and requiring the board of public works to dispose at any time of the shares appropriated to the State.

The house are proceeding to fill the Blanks. The capital of the Monongalia Bank is fixed at $ 174,000.

On Mr. Smyth's motion, a section was introduced for establishing a Bank at Wythe Court House.

On Mr. Calston's motion, one at Martinsburg, county of Berkley.

On Mr. Estill's motion, one at Abingdon, county of Abingdon.

Other Banks will be moved for to be incorporated into the bill. Before the House rose Mr Mercer moved to add new sections to the Bill for establishing a "Literary Fund Bank" at Richmond, with a capital of $ 1,500,000, one at Norfolk, on the same principles, with a capital of $ 900,000, and one at Petersburg. These sections were ordered to be printed, and the House adjourned.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.

Arrived at Newport, the brig Chauncey Sn w. 40 days from Gibraltar, with specie, sailcloth, and white lead, to Jacob Barker; and 165 seamen, discharged from the U. S. frigate Constellation under command of Lieut. Smith. Sailed from Gibraltar Nov. 16

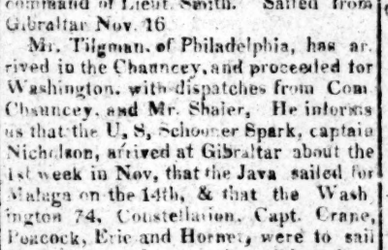

Mr. Tilgman, of Philadelphia, has arrived in the Chauncey, and proceeded for Washington, with dispatches from Com Chauncey, and Mr. Shaler. He informs us that the U. S. Schooner Spark, captain Nicholson, arrived at Gibraltar about the 1st week in Nov, that the Java sailed for Malaga on the 14th, & that the Washington 74, Constellation, Capt. Crane, Poncock, Erie and Hornet, were to sail for the same place on the 17th, where they were to be met by the United States Com. Shaw, then at Mahon and proceed thence for Algiers with the answer of our government, carried out by the Spark, to the propositions of the Dey, Mr. Shaler, was on board the Washington.

Captain Gordon, late commander of the Constellation, died at Messina universally regretted

About the 20th ult. inside the Cape, fell in with the brig Eliza Boynton, of and for Boston, from St. Barts, totally dismasted and in a sinking state; took off the captain and crew and burnt her. The brig James Murdock, from Bourdeaux for Philadelphia, was in sight at the time.

At Cadiz November 11, ship William, for NYork about the 20th, the only American vessel there. Flour at Cadiz 9 dollars. About 2000 barrels were sold at that price early in November.

The Dey has rendered Algiers much more formidable than before the late attack.

The Life of Patrick Henry.

PROPOSAL

By James Webster, of Philadelphia, for publishing by Subscription,

THE LIFE OF

The late Patrick Henry,

Containing many of his Speeches, &c. Embellished with a Likeness: By Wm. Wirt, Esq. of Richmond, (Va.)

Extract from the Port Folio for August, 1815.

"It is not without a sentiment of sincere gratification that we witness, in the following proposal, arrangements making by a competent hand, to do justice to the character of one of the most worthy and distinguished of our countrymen. As a statesman, a civilian, an orator and a patriot, Patrick Henry was entitled to stand in the foremost rank: Nor do his merits claim an inferior station as a firm, an honest, and an honorable man. He was one of those worthies on whose purity suspicion could never fix a stain.

"If nature did much for Mr Henry's character while living, accident has not been wanting in its favors to his posthumous fame: for to have found such a biographer as Mr. Wirt, so competent as a writer, and so peculiarly well qualified in every moral relation, is not the least fortunate incident in his history.

"In Mr. Wirt's Life of Patrick Henry we are irresistably impelled to expect much, the materials being excellent, and in great abundance, and the writer able and devoted to his subject. Nor do we think that the public will run any risk of being disappointed by bearing us company in our high expectations. We hope, and, indeed, have no doubt that the work will receive a liberal patronage."

CONDITIONS.

The work will be printed on a fine paper, in one octave volume, and will contain from 350 to 400 pages.

It will be delivered to subscribers, in good calf binding, at three dollars per copy. The price to non subscribers will be three dollars and fifty cents.

☞ Subscriptions are received by

James Kennedy & Son,
Booksellers, Alexandria.

FOR SALE,

A tract of Land containing 357 acres, more or less, lying on Occoquan Bay in the county of Fairfax and state of Virginia, adjoining the lands of Robert I Thompson and William Mason. It is presumed those desirous of purchasing will view the land and for themselves judge of its peculiar advantages. One third of the purchase money will be required in hand, the balance at 12, & 18 months, with a deed of trust to secure the payments.

Thompson F. Mason.

December 14.

Land for Sale

A tract or parcel of Land, containing between two and three hundred acres, on the north side of Occoquan, in Fairfax county, about 5 miles west of Occoquan mills. It is well watered with never failing springs, it is also well timbered, and the great quantity of fur timber on it renders it the more valuable to any person in the coopering line. This land is of the middle soil, and produces corn, wheat or any other grain tolerable well—there is about 100 acres cleared and under good fence. The improvements are a log dwelling house & other out houses, and a good apple orchard of about sixty trees.

ALSO,

One other tract in the same county within three miles of Occoquan, lying on Sandy Run, containing 47 acres—one half in cultivation and under good fence, the remainder heavily timbered. There are on the premises an old framed dwelling house and out houses and an apple orchard of eighty bearing trees.

Any person inclining to purchase can view the premises and know the terms by applying to the subscriber who lives near them.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store. No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor s feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg Richmond. Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It s not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions orfoulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face coated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent 'the vomiting and purging of chint'—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hand of the infa part of our citizens; likewise th mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number who in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout asthmatic gout, palsy, lumbagoo, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellant minerals, (the basis of other lotions) and of unparralled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural, insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent inoxication or any other destructive intemperance the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.

Sovereign remedy for Colds, obstinate Coughs, Asthmas, sore throats, and approaching Consumptions, and most disorders of the breast and lungs.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Toothe Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Lee's Infallibe Ague and Fever Drops.

For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.

Han's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
